

Date: Monday 11th August 2014

08.00-10.15 REGISTRATION - COFFEE

10.15-10.30 Opening

10.30-11.30 Plenary I : A matter of scale only? Frans Gregersen (University of Copenhagen)

Session	VARIATION IN THE LEXICON	STANDARDS & CONVERGENCE/DIVERGENCE	VARIATION AND SYNTHESIS OF SOUNDS	SPECIAL SESSION: Syntax Across Borders (Organisers: Ellen Brandner and Alexandra Lenz)
11.30-12.00	Lexical and Spatial Variation as Perceived by Young Tuat Arabic Speakers - Bahir Bouhania (University of Adrar)	Setting the standard: Are teachers the best speakers of Standard Dutch? - Anne-Sophie Ghyselen (Ghent University), Steven Delarue (Ghent University)	Gradience, allophony, and the Southern Shift trigger - Aaron Dinkin (University of Toronto), Robin Dodsworth (North Carolina State University)	Borderline cases of syntactic variation Ellen Brandner (Universität Konstanz)
12.00-12.30	Accessing large dialect databases on RADAR - Clive Upton (University of Leeds) & Martijn Wieling (University of Groningen)	Distance in space: dialects and standard Galician - Xulio Sousa (Instituto da Lingua Galega - Universidade de Santiago de Compostela)	Emergence and Evolution in Computer Simulation of Speech - William Kretzschmar (University of Georgia), Ilka Juuso (University of Oulu)	Are confessional and administrative borders relevant to the areal dynamics of syntactical variants? Swiss German dialects under observation Claudia Bucheli Berger (University of Zurich)
12.30-13.00	Lexical Variation in American English: A Web-based Dialect Survey - Jack Grieve (Aston University), Costanza Asnaghi (University of Leuven), Tom Ruetten (Humboldt-Universität zu Berlin & KU Leuven)	A century of linguistic change in progress -- The diffusion of new dialect forms in Tsuruoka - Fumio INOUE (NINJAL)		Borders in Continental West Germanic dialect syntax: evidence from the Wenker surveys Jürg Fleischer

13.00-14.00 LUNCH

Session	LANGUAGE CHANGE AND THE LEXICON	METHODOLOGIES	MULTIETHNIC ENVIRONMENTS	SPECIAL SESSION: Syntax across borders
14.00-14.30	Study of the Japanization of loanword's Phonemes: Based on the results of recorded sound research Na - Akemi Yamashita (Meikai University)	A Comparison of Three Digital Systems for Dialect Geography - Sheila Embleton, Dorin Uritescu, Eric S Wheeler (York University, Toronto Canada)	Sociophonetic orientation and variation in an emerging variety of English: The case of Haitians in - Veronique Lacoste (University of Freiburg)	On the syntactic dynamics of a transboundary dialect group Alexandra Lenz

14.30-15.00	English influence on written standard Italian: A new concept of regional dialect - Costanza Asnaghi (University of Leuven)	Fuzzy Dialect Areas and Prototype Theory Discovering Latent Structures in Geolinguistic Variation - Simon Pickl (Univerisity of Salzburg)	Ethnic correlates of morphosyntactic variation: Come/came variation in London, U.K. - Stephen Levey (University of Ottawa), Sue Fox (Queen Mary, London) & Laura Kastronic	Cluster creepers: a comparison between German and Dutch dialects Oliver Schallert & Johanna Schwalm (Philipps-Universität Marburg)
15.00-15.30	Lexical changes in dialect speech - Vilja Oja (Institute of the Estonian Language) & Iris Metsmägi (Institute of the Estonian Language)	Measuring dialect shift with traditional tools and modern technologies - Marino Fernandes (University of New Hampshire), Michael Rothier (Earth Systems Research Center, University of New Hampshire), Maya Ravindranath (University of New Hampshire)	"I Sound Irish, Like": Implications of Immigration for the Future of Northern Irish English - Nicholas S Roberts & Karen Corrigan (Newcastle University)	Extraposition in German Dialects and Regiolects - Shannon Dubenion-Smith (Western Washington University)
15.30-16.00	"Sometimes it gets really intense": Refining the variable context of adjectival intensification - Gerard van Herk (Memorial U of Newfoundland) & Jennifer Thorburn (Newcastle University)	Ethnographic methods at field laboratory: the vowel system of a low prestige geographical dialect in - Dimitris Papazachariou (University of Patras), Maria Giakoumelou (University of Patras), Maria Baltatzani (University of Ioannina), Evia Kainada (Technological University of Patras), Katerina Nicolaidis (University of Thessaloniki)		What a speaker of a language without verb cluster interruptions knows about verb cluster interruptions - Lotte Hendriks (Meertens Instituut)

16.00-16.30 COFFEE

16.30-17.30 Plenary II: Mark Liberman (University of Pennsylvania)

Date: Tuesday 12th August 2014

09.00-10.00	Plenary III: Heritage Languages as new dialects Naomi Nagy (University of Toronto)
10.00-10.30	COFFEE
Session	REAL & APPARENT TIME	DIALECTOMETRY	SPECIAL SESSION: Of vowels and 'systems': New methods for the study of vocalic variation (Organisers: Anne Fabricius and Dom Watt)	WORKSHOP: Gapmap tutorial (Organisers: Therese Leinonen & Wilbert Heeringa)	SPECIAL SESSION Bridging the gap between ELF and receptive multilingualism (Organiser: Jelena Golubovic)
10.30-11.00	Mixing Real and Apparent Time Data with Population Movement: a Case Study from Somerset - Victoria Garnett (Trinity College Dublin)	The Future of Dialect Data - Representation and Analysis - Jelena Prokic, Michael Cysouw & Johann-Mattis List (Philipps-Universität Marburg)	Automation and Sociophonetics Josef Fruehwald, (University of Edinburgh)	WORKSHOP: Gapmap tutorial (Therese Leinonen & Wilbert Heeringa)	Perceptual Intelligibility - The Effect of Language Attitudes on Mutual Intelligibility Carlo J.W. Ritchie (University of Sydney)
11.00-11.30	Intra-speaker variation and change - Torben Juel Jensen, Marie Maegaard & Nicolai Pharao (LANCHART, University of Copenhagen)	Dialectometry in Brittany, a new application of the Damereau-Levenshtein algorithm to the Breton spe - Guylaine Brun-Trigaud (CNRS & Université de Nice-Sophia-Antipolis , Tanguy Sollicec (Université de Paris Descartes), Jean Le Dù (Université de Bretagne Occidentale)	On the impact of noise on vowel formant measures Tamara Rathcke (University of Kent) & Jane Stuart-Smith (University of Glasgow)	WORKSHOP continued	Mutual intelligibility between the Arabic dialects Rasha Soliman (University of Manchester)
11.30-12.00	Problems of a real-time sociolinguistic project: Lessons from the Okazaki Survey on Honorifics - Kenjiro Matsuda (Kobe Shoin Women's University)	Timespan comparison of dialectal distributions - Onishi Takuichiro (NINJAL)	Measurement error and stability in vowel formant extraction: A simulation experiment Tyler Kendall (University of Oregon) and Charlotte Vaughn	WORKSHOP continued	Mutual intelligibility in the Slavic language area measured by cloze test Jelena Golubovic and Charlotte Gooskens (University of Groningen)

12.00-12.30	Tracing Real and Apparent Time Language Changes: Linguistic Maps and GIS - chitsuko Fukushima (University of Niigata Prefecture)		Reconceptualizing the vowel space Robert A. Fox and Ewa Jacewicz (Ohio State University)	WORKSHOP continued	Linguistic entrainment in English as a lingua franca and lingua receptiva dialogue between speakers of German and Dutch Gerda J. Bles and Jan D. ten Thije (Utrecht University)
12.30-14.30	LUNCH	LUNCH	LUNCH	LUNCH	LUNCH
12.30-14.30	POSTER SESSION	POSTER SESSION	POSTER SESSION	POSTER SESSION	POSTER SESSION
Session	SYNTACTIC DIALECT CHANGE	DIALECTOMETRY	SPECIAL SESSION: Of vowels and 'systems': New methods for the study of vocalic variation	WORKSHOP: Gapmap tutorial	SPECIAL SESSION Bridging the gap between ELF and receptive multilingualism
14.30-15.00	Indirect and direct survey methods of microvariational data: The case of partitive anaphors - Thomas Strobel (Goethe University Frankfurt)	Tracking linguistic and extra-linguistic features underlying lexical variation patterns - Simonetta Montemagni (ILC-CNR), Martijn Wieling (University of Groningen)	Naïve Categorization of American English Vowels Douglas S. Bigham (San Diego State University)	WORKSHOP continued	More intelligible than English? Investigating comprehension of a related language compared to English used as a lingua franca Kristy James, Stefan Bulatović, Anja Schüppert, Charlotte Gooskens (University of Groningen)
15.00-15.30	Variation in openly used person constructions in Border Karelian dialects - Milla Uusitupa (University of Eastern Finland)	The impact of phonetic narrowness on the dialectometry of Hungarian - Fruzsina Sára Vargha (Eötvös Loránd University)	Potential Pitfalls when Choosing to Normalise Nicholas Flynn	WORKSHOP continued	Uniformity versus Diversity: Evaluating the Position of English as a Lingua Franca in Interlingual Communication Linda van Heeswijk, Stefan Bulatovic, Kristy James, Femke Swarte, Jelena Golubovic, Stefanie Voigt, Anja Schüppert and Charlotte Gooskens (University of Groningen)

15.30-16.00	The future in a Continental French dialect: polarity versus temporal distance - Philip Comeau (University of Ottawa) & Anne-Jose Villeneuve (University of Toronto)	Disentangling a non-standard language corpus by steering visualizations to answer questions - Eveline Wadl-Vogt (Austrian center for digital humanities & Austrian academy of sciences), Roberto Theron (Department of computer science and automation -	Discussion (Discussant: Roeland van Hout)	WORKSHOP continued	You understand more than you think: testing mutual Intelligibility within the Romance language family using the picture task Stefanie Voigt & Charlotte Gooskens, University of Groningen
-------------	--	---	--	---------------------------	--

16.00-16.30	COFFEE
-------------	---------------	--	--	--	--

Session	VARIATION AND CHANGE IN MORPHO-SYNTAX	THE CLASSROOM: AS SETTING AND INSTRUMENT	SPECIAL SESSION: Of vowels and 'systems': New methods for the study of vocalic variation	WORKSHOP: Gapmap tutorial	SPECIAL SESSION Bridging the gap between ELF and receptive multilingualism
---------	---------------------------------------	--	--	---	---

16.30-17.00	Value in the margins: clitic placement in Cypriot Greek - Panayiotis Pappas (SFU)	Between monolg. policy and multilg. classrooms: Mapping ideological frameworks of Flemish teachers - Steven Delarue (Ghent University)	Discussion (Discussant: Roeland van Hout)	WORKSHOP continued	Standardizing Functional Testing of Mutual Intelligibility in Arabic Dialectology: Methods and Tools - Slavomír Čéplö (Charles University in Prague)
-------------	--	---	--	---------------------------	---

17.00-17.30	Investigating language landscapes: variation in verb cluster interruption - Lotte Hendriks (Meertens Instituut)	Undergraduate-conducted surveys: Balancing learning and data collection - Gerard van Herk, Paul DeDecker (Memorial U of Newfoundland) & Jennifer Thorburn (Newcastle University)		WORKSHOP continued	I don't understand this ugly language! – On the link between language attitudes and intelligibility - Femke Swarte & Charlotte Gooskens (University of Groningen)
-------------	--	---	--	---------------------------	--

17.30-18.00	Exploring global and local patterns of the correlation of geographic distances with morpho-syntactic - Péter Jeszenszky, Philipp Stoeckle, Robert Weibel (University of Zurich)	Crowdsourcing dialectology in the undergraduate classroom - Laurel MacKenzie, George Bailey & Danielle Turton (University of Manchester)		WORKSHOP continued	Discussion Jelena Golubovic (University of Groningen)
-------------	---	---	--	---------------------------	--

Date: Wednesday 13th August 2014

Session	VARIATION & CHILDREN OR ADOLESCENTS	SOUND CHANGE	PERCEPTION AND ATTITUDES	STRUCTURAL CONVERGENCE IN EUROPEAN MINORITY LANGUAGES	WORKSHOP: Integrating Perceptual dialectology and Sociolinguistics with Geographic Information Systems - Lisa Jeon, Patricia Cukor-Avila, Chris Montgomery, Patricia Rector
09.00-09.30	Social networks and school demographics in longitudinal adolescent data - Charlie Farrington (University of Oregon)	Cross-regional differences in the perception and production of a sound change in progress - Anne-France Pinget, Rene Kager & Hans van de Velde (Utrecht Institute of Linguistics OTS, Utrecht University)	Attitudes to varieties of Russian speech among young Russians - Benedikte Fjellanger Vardøy (University of Bergen)	Structural Convergence in Minority Languages in Europe Anne-José Villeneuve (University of Toronto) & Nanna Haug Hilton (University of Groningen)	Using GIS and R to Investigate Factors that Influence Dialect Perceptions: A Case Study from South Korea Lisa Jeon (Rice University)
09.30-10.00		The /I/-vocalisation in Styria (Austria) - Seifter Thorsten, Ralf Vollman, Bettina Hobel (University of Graz) Florian Pokomy (Joanneum Research Graz)	Border Karelian recognition test - Marjatta Palander & Helka Riionheimo (University of Eastern Finland)	Weak network ties and linguistic divergence: exploring new speakers of Francoprovençal - Jonathan Kasstan (University of Kent)	From overhead transparencies to GIS-produced composite maps: A methodological case study from Great Britain Chris Montgomery (University of Sheffield)
10.00-10.30	Where are we (heading)? A sociolinguistic ethnography of pupils' speech in Flanders - Inge Van Lancker	Testing speech perception on the field: mid back vowels in Girona Catalan - Eva Bosch Roura (Universitat de Barcelona)		The Future of Welsh Dialects? The Effects of Societal Changes on (r) Variation in Northern Welsh - Jonathan Morris (Cardiff University)	Workshop continued sample data analysis with open-source GIS-based software and R and map creation using ArcGIS
10.30-11.00	COFFEE

Session	SYNTACTIC VARIATION AND CHANGE	CHANGE IN TIME	BORDERS	DIALECT CHANGE	WORKSHOP: Integrating Perceptual dialectology and Sociolinguistics with Geographic Information Systems - Lisa Jeon, Patricia Cukor-Avila, Chris Montgomery, Patricia Rector
11.00-11.30	The distribution of aggregated syntactic construction types compared with other linguistic levels... - Sandra Kellerhals (University of Zurich), Yves Scherrer (University of Geneva), Elvira Glaser (University of Zurich), Robert Weibel (University of Zurich)	The Northern Subject Rule in Northern and Midlands Middle English dialects: be and other verbs - Nynke de Haas (Utrecht University)	Phonological variation and linguistic ideologies in the Upper Rhine area - Julia Breuninger & Martin Pfeiffer (University of Freiburg)	Stabilization of Flemish tussentaal: the style-shifting behavior in West-Flanders as a test case - Anne-Sophie Ghyselen (Ghent University)	Workshop continued sample data analysis with open-source GIS-based software and R and map creation using ArcGIS
11.30-12.00	Two-dimensional variation in Swiss German morphosyntax - Philip Stöckle & Peter Jeszenszky (University of Zurich)	Dialect Contact and the Sociolinguistic History of Acadian French - Philip Comeau (University of Ottawa), Ruth King (York University), Carmen LeBlanc (Carleton University)	Identidade lingüística en comunidades fronteirizas - Soraya Suarez Quintas & Irene Santos Raña (ILG-USC)	Visualizing dialect change as such; factoring out the role of the standard language - Wilbert Heeringa (Carl von Ossietzky University of Oldenburg & University of Groningen), Frans Hinskens (Meertens Instituut & VU University Amsterdam)	Workshop continued sample data analysis with open-source GIS-based software and R and map creation using ArcGIS
12.00-12.30	A study on data compilation methods in Catalan syntax variation - Ares Llop (Universitat Autònoma de Barcelona)		Pronominal boundaries between the Südfränkisch and Kleverland dialect areas in Germany and the Netherlands Frens Bakker & Roeland van Hout (Radboud University Nijmegen)	The sociolinguistics of back vowel fronting in Manchester English - Maciej Baranowski (University of Manchester)	Workshop continued sample data analysis with open-source GIS-based software and R and map creation using ArcGIS
12:30	LUNCH & EXCURSION

Date: Thursday 14th August 2014

09.00-10.00 Plenary IV: Dialectal variation and population genetics in Siberia Brigitte Pakendorf (Université de Lyon, France)

10.00-10.30 COFFEE

Session	DIALCTOLOGY AND SYNTAX	SPECIAL SESSION: Frontiers of Language Variation (organisers: John Nerbonne, Peter Auer, Dirk Geeraerts and Dirk Speelman)	SPECIAL SESSION: Dynamics of dialectal change in French (organiser: Marie-Hélène Côté)	SPECIAL SESSION: Instrumental articulatory phonetics and dialectological fieldwork. Strange bedfellows? (organisers: Etske Ooijselaar, Ben Hermans, Frans Hinskens and Marc van Oostendorp & Patrycja Strycharczuk)	SPECIAL SESSION: Panel studies: Challenges, food for thought and ways forward (organisers: Suzanne Wagner & Isabelle Buchstaller)
10.30-11.00	Tense-aspect-evidential differences between Mongolian dialects - Benjamin Brosig (Stockholm University)	Corpus linguistics meets culturonomics. A longitudinal distributional semantic analysis of lexical variation in immigration discourse - Kris Heylen & Dirk Speelman (Leuven)	Koineisation vs. standardisation in the French-speaking world André Thibault (Université de Paris Sorbonne)	Temporal dynamics of /æ/ tensing in North American English: an ultrasound study Mielke, Carignan and Dodsworth (North Carolina State University)	Comparing speech samples: On the challenge of comparability in panel studies of language change in real time Frans Gregersen, Torben Juel Jensen, Marie Maegaard and Nicolai Pharao (University of Copenhagen)
11.00-11.30	Measuring correlations in dialect Dutch verb clusters - Jeroen van Craenenbroeck (KU Leuven)	What can large monolingual corpora tell us about dialect/standard code-switching? Nikolay Khakimov (Freiburg)	Does regional variation exist? From acoustic realities to perceptual representations Alice Bordiaux (Université Catholique de Louvain)	Temporal dynamics of /æ/ tensing in North American English: an ultrasound study Mielke, Carignan and Dodsworth (North Carolina State University)	Data sets from independent sources Christopher Cieri (University of Pennsylvania Linguistic Data Consortium) Malcah Yaeger-Dror (University of Arizona)
11.30-12.00	The Relationship between Case, Word Order and Referential Scales in German Dialects - Simon Kasper (Forschungszentrum Deutscher Sprachatlas, Philipps-Universität Marburg)	On the problem of field worker isoglosses Andrea Mathussek (Freiburg)	French in Switzerland, toward a standardization? Isabelle Racine (Université de Genève)	/l/-darkening in varieties of English: A dialectological approach to articulatory variation Danielle Turton (University of Manchester)	The interaction of age and interview context in sociolinguistic fieldwork Patricia Cukor-Avila (University of North Texas) and Guy Bailey (University of Texas Rio Grande Valley)
12.00-12.30	Exploring the borders of analyticity and syntheticity - Kristel Uiboed, Maarja-Liisa Pilvik (University of Tartu)	On the use of vector models in aggregate-level studies of semasiological variation Dirk Speelman, Kris Heylen & Dirk Geeraerts (Leuven)	Phonological stabilization and destabilization in southern varieties of French Julien Eychenne (Hankuk University of Foreign Studies)	/l/-darkening in varieties of English: A dialectological approach to articulatory variation Danielle Turton (University of Manchester)	What makes a panel study work? Researcher and participant in real time Sali Tagliamonte (University of Toronto) Suzanne Evans Wagner (Michigan State University)

12.30-13.30 Lunch

Session	SPECIAL SESSION: OPEN ACCESS PUBLISHING	SPECIAL SESSION: Frontiers of Language Variation (organisers: John Nerbonne, Peter Auer, Dirk Geeraerts and Dirk Speelman)	SPECIAL SESSION: Dynamics of dialectal change in french	SPECIAL SESSION: Instrumental articulatory phonetics and dialectological fieldwork. Strange bedfellows?	SPECIAL SESSION: Panel studies: Challenges, food for thought and ways forward
13.30-14.00	Special session: Open Access Publishing		Convergence and divergence in African varieties of French Gelase Nimbona (Université Catholique de Louvain)	Using ultrasound tongue imaging to study variation in the GOOSE vowel across accents of English Eleanor Lawson and Lydia Mills (Queen Margaret University)	Stylistic variation in panel studies of change in real time John Rickford (Stanford University)
14.00-14.30	Special session: Open Access Publishing	What the tongue can tell us about dialects Martijn Wieling (Groningen)	Panafrican phonological features: a comparative study of five survey points in Francophone Africa Guri Bordal (University of Oslo)	Using ultrasound tongue imaging to study variation in the GOOSE vowel across accents of English Eleanor Lawson and Lydia Mills (Queen Margaret University)	On the utility of composite indices in longitudinal language study Janneke Van Hofwegen (Stanford University) Walt Wolfram (North Carolina State University)
14.30-15.00		Corpus-based dialectometry: why and how Benedikt Szmrecsanyi (Leuven) Christoph Wolk (Freiburg)	Standardization and levelling in Quebec Marie-Hélène Côté (Université Laval/University of Ottawa)	The devil is in the articulatory detail: phonological and dialectological implications of Dutch /r/ variation Koen Sebregts (Utrecht University)	Finding our voice in longitudinal sociophonetic analysis Mary Kohn (Kansas State University) Charlie Farrington (University of Oregon)
15.00-15.30		Core vocabulary, borrowability, and entrenchment. A usage-based onomasiological approach Eline Zenner (Leuven)	The rhotic and its adjacent vowels: complex trajectories in Laurentian French Hugo Saint-Amant Lamy (Université Laval)	The devil is in the articulatory detail: phonological and dialectological implications of Dutch /r/ variation Koen Sebregts (Utrecht University)	The influence of age on estimating sound change acoustically from longitudinal data Jonathan Harrington and Ulrich Reubold (Institute for Phonetics & Speech Processing, Ludwig-Maximilians-University, Munich)
15.30-16.00	COFFEE
Session		SPECIAL SESSION: Frontiers of Language Variation	SPECIAL SESSION: Dynamics of dialectal change in french	SPECIAL SESSION: Instrumental articulatory phonetics and	SPECIAL SESSION: Panel studies: Challenges, food for thought and
16.00-16.30		Discussion: Frontiers of Language Variation John Nerbonne, (Groningen) Peter Auer (Freiburg) & Dirk Geeraerts (Leuven) (Chair: Benedikt Szmrecsanyi)	Louisiana French: French Americas' Linguistic Gumbo Luc Baronian (Université du Québec à Chicoutimi)	Sibilants in Italian/Tyrolean bilingual speakers Lorenzo Spreafico (Free University of Bolzano)	Panel studies in two subfields on linguistics: Convergence and divergence across research paradigms Hélène Blondeau (University of Florida)

16.30-17.00		Discussion: Frontiers of Language Variation John Nerbonne, (Groningen) Peter Auer (Freiburg) & Dirk Geeraerts (Leuven) (Chair: Benedikt Szmrecsanyi)	Convergence, Divergence and the Recent History of Acadian French Ruth King (York University)	Sibilants in Italian/Tyrolean bilingual speakers Lorenzo Spreafico (Free University of Bolzano)	Discussion Suzanne Evans Wagner (Michigan State University) & Isabelle Buchstaller (University of Leipzig)
17.00-17.30
20:00	DINNER

Date: Friday 15th August 2014

Session	SOUND CHANGE	LOSS OF LINGUISTIC VARIANTS	CHANGES IN THE LEXICON	METHODOLOGY IN DIALECTOLOGY
09.00-09.30	Retrograde language change and retrograde individuals - Suzanne Wagner (Michigan State University)	A corpus-based investigation of dialect levelling in Laurentian French - Marie-Helene Cote (Université Laval / Université d'Ottawa), Hugo Saint-Amant Lamy (Université Laval)	The Finnic "itse" as a non-inflecting adverb or an emphatic word - Maria Kok (University of Eastern Finland)	Theatre for informants: a tool for obtaining proper data - Victor Jara Bermejo (universidad autónoma de madrid)
09.30-10.00	Linguistic and social constraints on consonantal variation in Manchester English - Maciej Baranowski & Danielle Turton (University of Manchester)	Dialect levelling and the change of semiotic space - Ivana Skevin (University of Zadar)	Spatial and Geostatistical Analysis for Regional Dialectology - Jack Grieve (Aston University)	Diatech+: Tool for doing Dialectometry easier - Gotzon Aurrekoetxea, Karmele Fernandez, Jesus Rubio, Gotzon Santander & Iker Usobiaga (UPV/EHU)
10.00-10.30	Acoustic properties and regional variation of Saterland Frisian vowels - Heike Schoormann, Jörg Peters & Wilbert Heeringa (Carl von Ossietzky University of Oldenburg Institute of German Studies)		How frequent is frequent and why does it matter? Lexical frequency effects on a regular sound change - Matthias Hofman (Chemnitz University of Technology) & Susanne Wagner (University of Oxford)	Bottom-up Dialectometry Using the GeoLing Package - Simon Pröll (University of Augsburg), Simon Pickl (University of Salzburg), Aaron Spettl (Ulm University), Stephan Elspaß (University of Salzburg), Werner König (University of Augsburg), Volker Schmidt (Ulm University)
10.30-11.00	COFFEE

Session	SOUND CHANGE	PERCEPTUAL DIALECTOLOGY	SYNTACTIC VARIATION	CORPUS CREATION - CORPUS STUDIES
11.00-11.30	Islanders or Mainlanders? The Canadian Shift in the middle class of urban St. John's, NL - Matthias Hofmann (Chemnitz University of Technology)	Perception: What have we learned? - Dennis Preston (Oklahoma State University & Michigan State University)	Corpus-based dialect syntax: variation and frequency of partitive subjects in Estonian dialects - Liina Lindström (University of Tartu)	Linguistic features in the "Buried Issei Japanese Voice" in the Americas - Yoshiyuki Asahi (NINJAL)
11.30-12.00	Raising from the Past: Using Digitized Sound Archives to Inform Unsolved Mysteries in Dialectology - Sandra Clarke & Paul De Decker (Memorial University)	Auditory affective priming: Exploring new methods to measure attitudes to language varieties - Laura Rosseel, Dirk Geeraerts & Dirk Speelman (QLVL, University of Leuven)	Dialect syntax beyond a corpus: a case study in European Portuguese - Carrilho Ernestina (FLUL/CLUL) & Sandra Pereira (CLUL)	Linguistic Atlas of the Iberian Peninsula: archival materials & web facsimiles to online cartography - David Heap (University of Western Ontario)
12.00-12.30	On context-related variation of hyper-local variants: /h/ insertion in earlier Tristan da Cunha Engl - Daniel Schreier	Mapping the perception of linguistic form: Dialectometry with perception data - Tyler Kendall (University of Oregon) & Valerie Fridland (University of Nevada, Reno)	The sociolinguistic reconfiguration of francophone language practices in Montréal - Helene Blondeau (University of Florida), France Martineau (University of Ottawa) & Mireille Tremblay (Université de Montréal)	Creating the Chinese Online Dialect Atlas - Robert Sanders (University of Auckland) & Eric Wheeler (York University)
12.30-13.00	Tonal variation in Kagoshima Japanese and factors of language change - Ichiro Ota (Kagoshima University), Hitoshi Nikaido (Fukuoka Jo Gakuin University) & Akira Utsugi (Nagoya University)	MAPPING THE CONTENT OF SIXTY-FIVE DIALECTAL NOTEBOOKS ON THE INTERNET - Maria-Pilar Perea (Universitat de Barcelona)	Lexical Frequency and Syntactic Variation: Evidence from U.S. and Peninsular Spanish - Robert Bayley, Cory Holland, Kristen Greer (University of California, Davis)	Developing Linguistic Atlas of Japan Database and advancing analysis of geographical distributions - Yasuo Kumagai (NINJAL)

13.00-14.00 LUNCH
Session	SOUND CHANGE	CORPUS STUDIES	VARIATION AND CHANGE IN SYNTAX	NEW MEDIA
14.00-14.30	Spanish reduction processes: closing or widening the gap? - Karolina Bros (University of Warsaw)	A Demonstration of a Dialectal Database - Raïssa Gillier	Adnominal and pronominal agreement with neuter nouns in Belgian Dutch - Karlien Franco & Dirk Geeraerts (QLVL, KU Leuven)	Greetings from Braboneger. Linguistic variation in digital communication - Jos Swanenberg (Tilburg University)
14.30-15.00	Vocalic duration variability in regional varieties of New Brunswick Acadian French - Wladyslaw Cichocki (University of New Brunswick), Yves Perreault & Sid-Ahmed Selouani (Université de Moncton)	Digitizing the linguistic atlas of German-speaking Switzerland - Yves Scherrer (University of Geneva) & Sandra Kellerhals (University of Zurich)	Dialectal and Sociolinguistic Variation in Negative Concord - Heather Burnett, Mireille Tremblay (Université de Montréal), Hélène Blondeau (University of Florida)	HOW TWO CATALAN DIALECTS COEXIST IN THE SAME AREAS. AN ANALYSIS OF THE USE AND DISTRIBUTION OF SOME - Maria-Pilar Perea (Universitat de Barcelona), Antonio Ruiz-Tinoco (Sophia University)
15.00-15.30	Global Demise of a Venerable Change in Progress - Jack Chambers (University of Toronto)			The User, the Switch, and the SMS: Reported and Observed Code Switching Behaviour in CMC - Cedric Krummes, Claudia Buscher & Beat Siebenhaar (Universität Leipzig)
15.30-16.00 COFFEE
16.00-18.00 Plenary V: Dialect variation in online social media Jacob Eisenstein (Georgia Institute of Technology, USA)
CLOSING				